

Bartali Family Background

In 1927, Alberto Bartali founded his company with the help of his wife, Leda Pucci, in the heart of the Chianti region at the foot of Monteriggioni. Under the management of their son, Rivo, the estate took on a more important role in the wine market, extending know-how and commitment to a high quality production. The passion and love for the Tuscan land were passed down from Rivo to his children, Alberto, Wanda and Maria, and Wanda's husband Marco, whose joint efforts consolidated and developed the estate. Today, the family tradition continues with their children Filippo, Linda and Andrea.

The company is exclusively run by the family and they want it to stay that way. The estate's capacity exceeds 18,000 hectoliters of wine, with the possibility of processing different products with the utmost precision and promptness. The estate has a potential of over 2,500,000 bottles per year in the different bottle formats, which can rely on a modern and rational bottling line

Campinoti Farming Estate

The Campinoti farming estate was acquired by Rivo Bartali in 1958. It stretches over 80 hectares of land, 15 of which are vineyards, all facing the beautiful town of San Gimignano. The estate produces 500 hectoliters of Chianti wine and 300 hectoliters of white and red Tuscan wine. The Campinoti estate also boasts 250 olive trees, cropland and woodland

Villa Casone Farming Estate

The Villa Casone farming estate lies on 80 hectares of land. The villa that once belonged to Counts Terrosi Vagnoli, was acquired in 1976 and boasts a majestic park with woodland and cropland. The three children and their respective families live on the Villa Casone estate.
